Define Legacy Giving

- To convey one's values through creation of a future gift to charity
- A foresighted action to strengthen a favorite cause
- Remember Charity

Legacy Gifts

- Examples include:
 - beneficiary form designation
 - will
 - trust
 - life-income arrangements
 - endowment gifts
- They can be created by:
 - Any individual
 - At any point in his/her life

Complicated Legacy Gifts

- Will or living trust
- Charitable gift annuity
- Life income trust
- Many others

Simple & Easy Legacy Gifts - Beneficiary Form Designation

- Savings account
- Checking account
- Stocks or bonds
- IRA or pension
- Annuity
- Life Insurance policy

Common Beneficiary Form Elements

- Account owner's name, address, social security number
- Primary beneficiary name, address, percentage interest
- Contingent beneficiary name, address, percentage interest
- Right to revoke beneficiary
- Date of designation, signature of account owner
- Consent of spouse
- Notary

Tremendous Revenue Opportunity

- Seven out of ten Americans make gifts to charity during their lifetime
- Yet fewer than one in ten creates a legacy gift. Why?
- Because most people have never been asked!

Legacy Giving Philosophy

- Emphasize sustainability and resource management
- Describe long-term objectives and outcomes
- Engage volunteers, supporters and staff
- Focus on relationships, not techno-babble
- Express ongoing appreciation of legacy donors
- Communicate how legacy giving impacts mission
- Simple plan, consistently applied

Strategic Importance of Legacy Gifts

- Almost everyone is a prospect
- For most people it's the largest gift they make
- Low cost of fundraising
- Legacy donors make larger annual gifts
- Only a small percentage of donors have been asked
- Wide variety of gift options, many easy to create
- Only revenue that increases during recessions
- Staggering transfer of wealth in next 50 years

Common Obstacles to Building a Legacy Giving Program

- Uncertain why it's important
- Subject matter perceived to be too difficult
- Concern it takes a lot of staff time
- Fear it requires a large budget
- Misconception that only wealthy create legacy gifts
- Unsure how to create board / staff support

Why People Create Legacy Gifts

- Express appreciation to a charity that served them
- Support and sustain organizations they care about
- Reflects a cultural, ethical or religious value
- Meets a need of the community
- Memorialize themselves or a loved one
- Serves as an example to future generations
- Creates something of beauty
- Accomplishes planning and financial benefits
